

Introducing a color-coding system from the maker of the Humalog® (insulin lispro injection [rDNA origin]) and Humulin® brands of insulins.

In our continuous effort to promote patient safety, we are pleased to introduce the new FDA-approved, color-coded packaging system for all U-100 insulin formulations, including Humalog and Humulin products. The redesigned labeling can help you accurately locate the insulin that has been prescribed for your patient.

What to expect

This exciting rollout will start with the new KwikPen™ prefilled with the Humalog brand of insulins and continue until all U-100 insulin products have new color-coded labeling. It is anticipated that all new labeling will be rolled out by the end of 2008. And because this is simply a packaging upgrade, you can continue to use any current samples or pharmacy/wholesale stock of Humalog or Humulin products until the expiration date.
